BOBBY CHARLES DVD ORDER FORM

The Life and Music of Bobby Charles (DVD, one hour, 2 minutes), a video presentation on the life and music of Abbeville's premier songwriter, composer of "See You Later, Alligator," "Walking to New Orleans," "I Don't Know Why I Love You But I Do," and many other popular songs. The video consists of Bobby's personal history, interviews with Bobby and with others who knew him well, samples of many of his most popular songs sung by Bobby himself accompanied by well-known professional musicians, Bobby's live performance of "See You Later, Alligator" at his induction into the Texas Music Hall of Fame, and many other cameos.

This video was created for the Vermilion Historical Society and is narrated by Abbeville radio and TV announcer Dave Pierce. When posted on the VHS website, it proved so popular that the demand crashed the website, so it had to be removed from the website and is now being offered as a DVD. To order, print out this form, fill it out, and send it with your payment to the address at the top. Sorry, the Vermilion Historical Society is not set up to accept credit cards. All proceeds benefit the Vermilion Historical Society, a tax-exempt, nonprofit corporation whose sole purpose is the collection, preservation, and dissemination of the history of Vermilion Parish, Louisiana.
